Study Exchange Delegate Selection, Low Income Housing in the Netherlands, Germany
Aug. 26-Sept. 4, 2015

Purpose: To solicit interest, learn of qualifications, and develop NAHRO membership and educator/student involvement in the selection of members for the NAHRO International Research and Global Exchange (IRGE) study delegations, and to assemble a strong balance and representation within study exchange delegations that can both share and learn from the host country, agency or organization.

Review: Submissions are reviewed and selections made by the President in consultation with the Vice President of IRGE Committee. The following factors will be used for the review. Priority consideration will be given to NAHRO members.

1. Experience and/or education of the candidate to the focus of interest, if known, of the host country (e.g. inclusionary zoning, tax increment districts, homeownership, privatization, etc.). The candidate may contact the IRGE Committee to learn of the committee's study focus, and is encouraged to research further matters that may be of interest to the IRGE Committee and the host country.
2. Specific achievements accomplished over an extended period of time in the field of housing and/or community development as a public official, provider, or advocate.
3. Membership in the NAHRO IRGE Committee.
4. Membership in NAHRO.
5. Teachers, students, or others involved in academia related to housing and community development.
6. Languages in which the candidate is fluent.
7. Formal and/or informal contacts relevant to the host country.
8. Travels to the host country as a member of a NAHRO Exchange Delegation.

9. Ability to commit to the delegation travel date, and flexibility of a date that has yet to be scheduled, or which may require reschedule.
10. Financial resources for study exchange participation, which may include transportation, lodging, meal and gift expense.
11. Other considerations that may be relevant to each unique exchange.

Letters of request must include the candidate's name, present position and contact information along with a current resume, response to the above listed factors, and any other relevant information.

Letters of request must be submitted no later than June 15, 2015 via email or postal mail
